WITH A SMILE AND A SONG AND A SPOONFUL OF LUCK!

If you've ever quieted a fretful child by singing "Feed the Birds" from "Mary Poppins," felt your spirits lift while whistling "I Wan'na Be Like You" and "That's What Friends Are For" from "The Jungle Book," or shortened the last few miles of a long drive with a rousing, all-family rendition of "Let's Get Together" from "The Parent Trap," your life's been enriched by Richard M. and Robert B. Sherman (see page 7).

They're the songwriters who won Oscars (best song and best score) for "Mary Poppins," that most magical of musicals. And they've doublehandedly enlivened over 27 Disney films including "The Happiest Millionaire," "Bon Voyage," "The Aristocats," and "Bedknobs and Broomsticks."

Asked what they'd call a song about their careers, they immediately answer "Serendipity!"

"Fortune, breaks, being in the right place at the right time," elaborates Dick Sherman as he and older brother Bob reminisce in their studio. It's dominated by two facing desks, a grand piano and dozens of framed playbills. On one wall a mock-Victorian advertisement announces "Snappy Songs & Witty Sayings While You Wait."

"We backed into collaborating to begin with," says Bob, a silvery bear of a man whose thoughtful, basso profundo air provides the counterpoint to Dick's energetic tenor enthusiasm.

"Dick wanted to compose symphonies. I was going to write the great American novel. Luckily our dad, Al Sherman, a very successful pop song writer, had other ideas.

"He told us, 'You're pretty clever, but I don't think you have enough brains to write a song a kid would spend his lunch money on.' That started it."

After writing lots of bad stuff ("you have to get it out of your system"), they came up with a winner: "Gold Can Buy Anything But Love," recorded by Gene Autry.

"We were all prepared to be rich and famous," Dick grins.

"Then General Douglas MacArthur was recalled from Korea. He made his famous farewell speech and Autry re-recorded 'Old Soldiers Never Die.' It 36 songs the Shermans wrote for her, and eventually led to a TV assignment from Walt Disney—certainly what they consider the luckiest break of their careers.

"Walt started us writing songs for productions, and that's what we've done ever since," Dick says.

"Walt didn't want singing heads. He would say 'What's happening? What's happening?' and bang on his chair with his hand. He liked our songs because they were visual. We could imagine how a song would look on screen—not just how it would sound.

"We'd come in with one assignment and go away with two. It was 'Can you write Mexican songs?' 'Sure, sure!' 'What do you know about horses?' 'Lots, lots.' 'Good, go write me a Mexican horse song!'

"The key to writing for Walt Disney was to say, 'Sure, we can do it,' and then go out and learn how to do it—FAST!"

Asked how they work, they agree that "it's hard to say which of us does what. It's really mutual creation. We call it 'Shermanizing.'"

They recently finished "Shermanizing" a Cabbage

Patch Kids album, and are working on a second. As well as composing the theme and several other songs for "Welcome to Pooh Corner," they're developing a series of mini-musicals based on classic children's books for The Disney Channel.

Do they ever think about writing their swan song and retiring?

"I can't imagine not being in the business," Bob says. "Songwriting is a kind of 'happy addiction.'"

"When you've just finished a song, right then it's your favorite. You give a little of yourself every time. Every one of them is an act of love." 🐣

As Mary Poppins, Julie Andrews coaxes a robin to accompany her on the Shermans' "Spoonful of Sugar" knocked us off the charts overnight!

"Dad just said 'That's what you call a curve. If you don't like it, get out of the business!'" Bob recalls.

They decided to stay in.

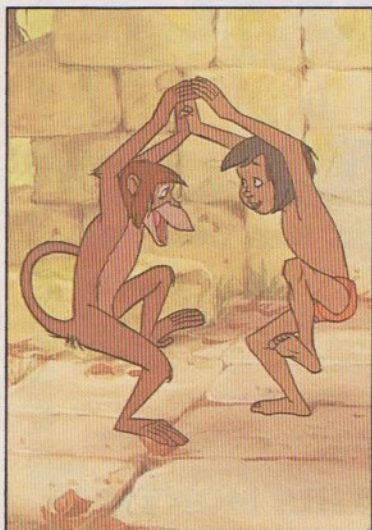

Serendipity went into overtime for them in 1958, when they wrote, recorded, manufactured and distributed a rock 'n' roll number called "Tall Paul."

"It only got one response, but that was the response we needed," Bob says.

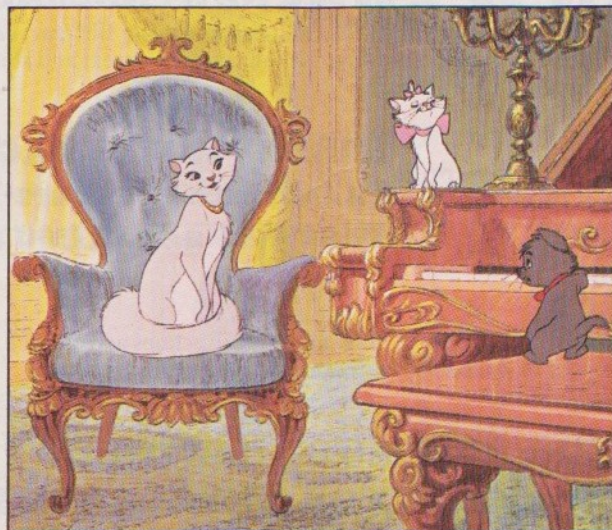

A music agent from Walt Disney Productions recognized the song's potential for Annette Funicello, who was fast moving from Mouseketeer to teenage singing star. It was the first of

The LIVING DESERT

Feature-Length
True-Life Adventure

Walt Disney, whose curiosity knew no bounds, was justly proud of "The Living Desert."

"The cameras of our scientist-photographers captured many of Nature's closely guarded secrets," he said.

"We found in the so-called lifeless desert, Nature in her most beguiling moods and ferocious moments. Bringing them to the screen has been a stimulating and exciting task. We believe our audiences will share our fascination for what this film dramatically reveals."

First of Walt's full-length True-Life Adventures, "The Living Desert" won an Oscar and numerous international motion picture awards. It stands as a landmark of factual filmmaking.

Its locale is the Great North American desert behind the Sierra Nevada and Cascade Mountain ranges. Its theme is the lush and never-ending life pattern of nature's strange creatures, equipped through evolution to survive in this harsh setting.

What man's unseeing eyes report as "dead," the cameras of Disney naturalist-photographers reveal as an expanse teeming with life and vitality. Tarantula, chuckawalla, coati mundi, vulture, peccary, bobcat, rattlesnake, pocket mouse, red-tailed hawk, bat, kangaroo rat, gecko lizard, elf owl, sidewinder. All those denizens and more add design to the vivid-mosaic of life in "The Living Desert."

RIP-ROARING ACTION ON THE RODEO CIRCUIT

the Great American Cowboy

Try to keep from throwing your hat in the air as you watch this rip-roaring Academy Award-winner.

Action is the star of "The Great American Cowboy." And with filmmaker Keith Merrill daring to take his cameras inside the arena, you'll see the spectacular world of rodeoing as it's never been shown before.

Merrill depicts the American cowboy as athlete, entertainer, outdoorsman, competitor, humorist and living legend. Watch 11-year-old Wayne Hedger vie in the Little League of young cowboys. Listen to 101-year-old cowboy Jack Hart describe adventures on the trail. Visit a rodeo school, and a working cattle ranch where cowboys perfect their skills. Then hang on as Larry Mahan and Phil Lyne scramble for rodeo championship.

Bronco buster takes off for three-point landing

While filming this closeup of cowboys in action, Merrill's cameramen were knocked down by bulls, kicked by bucking broncos, and mired in arena mud. Merrill himself was thrown from a chute by a rearing horse, but he too kept on shooting as he fell.

You'll see it all in this gritty portrayal of "The Great American Cowboy."

Even if you can't spell it, chances are you can sing "Supercalifragilisticexpialidocious," and know what it means. And no doubt you've heard that bubbly musical prescription for taking your medicine with "A Spoonful of Sugar"!

Meet Richard M. and Robert B. Sherman, the sibling songwriters who penned those and over 200 other melodies for Walt Disney Productions. Their creations include songs as diverse as "Feed the Birds" from "Mary Poppins," and "Let's Get Together" from

"The Parent Trap."

Join them at the piano in their West Hollywood studio as they show how they translated Walt Disney's ideas into music.

"Walt always knew what he wanted to see and hear," they say. "We had to figure out what he wanted, too! He was the idea man, and we were the lucky recipients of his assignments."

BON VOYAGE!

Fred MacMurray, Jane Wyman, Michael Callan, Deborah Walley

Although the count was close, most of you bought tickets for a "Bon Voyage" return trip on "Play It Again Cinema" this month. "BristleFace" placed second, "The Wild Country" third.

It's easy to see how "Bon Voyage" captured the day when you meet the Willards, a likeable Midwestern family of four setting off on a long-dreamed-of trip abroad. They've planned on seeing the sights, but the travel agent didn't tell them about the adventure they'd get in the bargain.

There's romance, color and hilarious confusion every mile of the way as the Willards laugh and love their way through this cordon bleu of comedies!

John Ireland, Kate Reid, Brent Carver, Kim Catrall

Olympic Gold symbolizes the peak of athletic achievement. But not for Aaron Kornyllo (Brent Carver) who, in wanting less, accomplishes more.

Aaron is a young high jumper. After winning a bronze medal at the 1976

Olympics, he loses a leg in a farm accident. Determined to return to the sport he loves and encouraged by his girl friend (Kim Catrall), a fellow athlete, Aaron doggedly practices. His goal: to jump 6' 10", the Olympic qualifying mark.

You'll thrill to this inspiring film, starring John Ireland and Kate Reid as Aaron's parents caught between their son's ambition and hard reality.

Les Brown

Your summer festival of big band concerts continues as Ray McKinley, Jimmy Dorsey, Artie Shaw, Lionel Hampton and Les Brown provide music and memories on this series which Peter Marshall emcees from Disneyland!

Ray McKinley is a drummer who sets the pace for his orchestra and his special guest, vocalist Ella Mae Morse.

The Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra performs under the baton of jazz trumpeter Lee Castle, with songstress Helen Forrest as guest.

Artie Shaw, "King of the Clarinet," appears with the Artie Shaw Orchestra directed by Dick Johnson.

PLUS A Day's Pleasure

Charles Chaplin, Albert Austin, Jackie Coogan

Your applause continues for our Chaplin comedies as The Little Tramp wins new friends and fans on The Disney Channel.

This month Charlie gets a job under the big top in "The Circus" (1928). He's only a handyman, but without knowing it he's funnier than any clown. He falls for a beautiful bareback rider, only to find she's in love with the handsome King of the High Wire. Not to be outdone, Charlie goes on for the tightrope king when he misses a performance. It's a heroic, hilarious gesture, climaxing what one reviewer calls "Chaplin at his best in a comedy with an undercurrent of pathos."

Charlie, his wife and two sons set out for "A Day's Pleasure," which turns into comic misadventures. Henry Bergman, a Chaplin stalwart for 30 years, is seen in both films.

Dick Van Dyke, coming to Hollywood from Broadway, made his Disney debut in "Mary Poppins." He received such rave reviews that Walt promptly cast him as "Lt. Robin Crusoe, U.S.N."

In this sunny, summery comedy, Crusoe is a navy flyer lost and stranded on a desert island. At first his only companion is a chimpanzee, but before long he meets Wednesday (Nancy Kwan), the beautiful daughter of a neighboring chief (Akim Tamiroff). When a bevy of equally gorgeous girls join her, Crusoe's island becomes—for him—a paradise.

But there is, proverbially, trouble in paradise, and it strikes in the form of Wednesday's ferocious father and a tribe of headhunters. Suddenly Crusoe, who hoped he'd never be rescued, changes his mind.

"Lt. Robin Crusoe, U.S.N." was filmed in Hawaii, principally on the garden island of Kauai. Lawai-Kai, once the estate of Queen Liliuokalani, was once upon an enchanted island

Here is a lyrical tale of the South Pacific, told by an old islander remembering his boyhood.

It is an unspoiled time, with villagers living in harmony with their environment. The sea provides their livelihood. It also holds perils in the form of man-eating sharks, death-dealing rays and canoe-crushing waves.

Key to the islanders' idyllic existence is nacre, the hard to harvest mother-of-pearl. Inevitably, life in the village changes as traders come seeking this treasure from deep beneath the sea.

FALLING for the STARS

How often have you watched an incredible stunt performed in a movie and wondered, "How did they do it?" Richard Farnsworth reveals all!

Farnsworth, co-star of "The Natural" and a stuntman for over 30 years, brings you into the closed company of stunt people.

"There are only about 150 stunt pros in Hollywood," he points out. Then, by means of interviews, on-the-set visits and film clips, Farnsworth shows you the tricks of their daring trade.

Stars such as Buddy Ebsen and Robert Conrad, whose action roles provide steady employment for stunters, explain how they survive scenes of havoc and mayhem dreamed up by

HEIDI Comes Home

Katia Polletin, Stefan Arpagaus, Kathi Bohm, Rene Deltgen

Concluding this three-part mini-series, Heidi (Katia Polletin) is reunited in the Alps with her grandfather (Rene Deltgen) after her unhappy sojourn in Frankfurt.

Softened by her sunny disposition, the misanthropic old man reconciles himself with the villagers. He and Heidi winter in town where she attends school and teaches goat-herd Peter (Stefan Arpagaus) to read. Only the news from Frankfurt that her friend Clara Sesemann's (Kathi Bohm) health is failing mars Heidi's new-found contentment.

Spring brings a surprise. Clara comes to visit. Jealous

Louis Hayward, Joan Bennett, Warren William

Here's a glorious version of Alexandre Dumas' tale of intrigue and adventure in 17th century France.

Louis XIV entangles himself in such a web of romance and palace politics that he is forced to imprison his twin brother

Philippe (both played by Louis Hayward) behind a dreadful iron mask. This only complicates the king's situation when Philippe's friends, the Three Musketeers, rally to his rescue.

Rascal

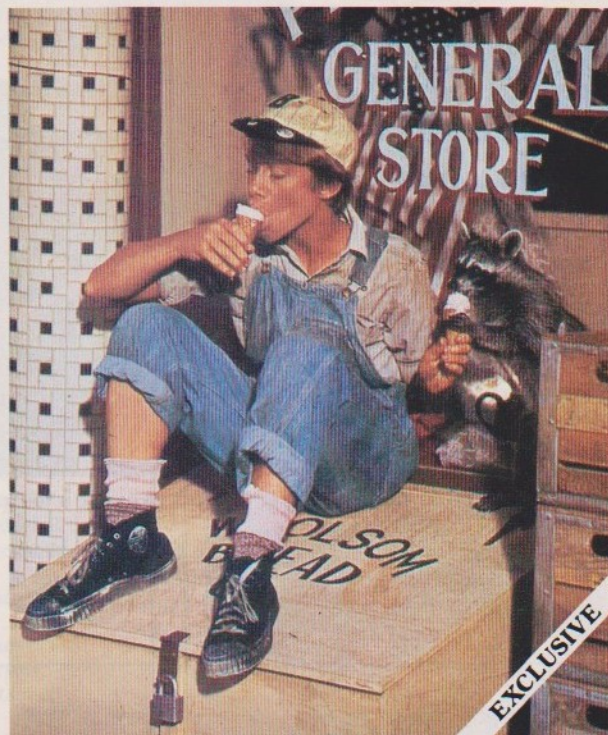

Steve Forrest,
Bill Mumy, Pamela Toll, Elsa Lanchester

Good friends come in all shapes and sizes. Some even sport fur coats, black masks and ring-tails. You'll find two new friends in this heartlifting comedy-drama about a pet raccoon and his teenage master.

Young Sterling North (Bill Mumy) rescues Rascal, an orphaned raccoon, from the perils of nearby woods. But raising the little mischief-maker presents problems: neighbors and even family aren't nearly so ready to accept Sterling's new-found pal. Rascal more than lives up to his name.

This Disney film is based on Sterling North's prizewinning autobiographical novel. A number of raccoons, born in captivity and professionally trained, took turns playing the title role.

Burgess Meredith describes a sea monster he's seen

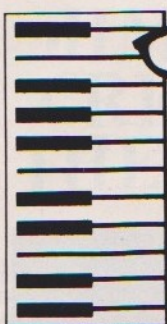

When schoolteacher Henry Meade (Burgess Meredith) claims he's seen a sea monster in the waters off Strawberry Cove, doddering bird-watcher Mrs. Pringle (Agnes Moorehead) convinces the town to oust him from his classroom before he poisons the children's minds.

Three of his students—Tippy (Annie McEveety), Catfish (Patrick Creamer), and Scott (Jimmy Bracken)—explore the caves hoping to turn up the monster and vindicate Meade. Finding none, the kids decide to build a makeshift monster of their own. In the process, they uncover a smuggling operation. Mysterious mishaps begin to befall the young detectives.

Steve Allen's MUSIC ROOM

Steve Allen leads a musicfest with singers Rosemary Clooney and Lou Rawls

Frank Sinatra and Bing Crosby make a surprise filmed appearance as Steve Allen welcomes Lou Rawls, Rosemary Clooney, Red Holloway and James Raphael to his Music Room.

Rawls, a Grammy award-winning singer, opens the show with his velvety rendition of "You'll Never Find Another Love Like Mine." Clooney changes the tempo with a rousing delivery of "You're Going to Hear From Me" and "Hey There." As a surprise treat, Allen rolls a rare film clip from a 1957 TV special featuring Clooney with Bing Crosby and Frank Sinatra!

Jazz saxophonist Holloway plays "No Tears Over You." Then, in tribute to the late, great George Gershwin, Terry Gibbs and his band romp through "I've Got Rhythm," and pianist James Raphael performs Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue."

"Maybe our show can bring back good music," Allen suggests. With these guests, it's back already! August 4, 7, 12, 15, 19, 21, 27, 30

Hamad and the Pirates

Khalik Marshad, Abdullah Masoud, Khalifah Shaheen

Caught in a typhoon, a young pearl diver is swept into even worse danger when he is saved by modern pirates. For after Hamad (Khalik Marshad) discovers his rescuers are carrying a cargo of stolen archaeological treasures, his own life is in jeopardy.

Now a game of cat and mouse begins, with Hamad eluding the pirates only to face more perils on a desperate quest for police protection.

This suspense thriller was filmed on the island of Bahrain. It features a native cast and servicemen of the British Royal Navy.

FIVE MILE CREEK

Louise Caire Clark, Rod Mullinar, Liz Burch,
 Michael Caton, Priscilla Weems, Martin Lewis,
 Gus Mercurio, with Jay Kerr as Con Madigan

EXCLUSIVE

Love and danger create new excitement for the hardy folk at Five Mile Creek as Jack Taylor brings his sweetie to the Haven and Paddy Malone confronts his past Confirmed Five Mile Creek fans say the characters seem like old friends. Tune in this month for two new, self-contained stories about the adventures of these remarkable people in the Australian outback of the 1860s. If you haven't met them yet, you'll be delighted when you do!

Jack Taylor's (Rod Mullinar) lovestruck behavior thoroughly exasperates everyone at Five Mile Creek in "When the Kookaburra Cries" (beginning August 1). Fed up with his shenanigans, they turn the Haven into "The Honeymoon Hotel" as a practical joke to embarrass him when he brings his lady love for a visit.

Paddy Malone's (Michael Caton) past haunts him in the shape of a bounty hunter in "Walk Like a Man" (premiering August 15). When Paddy is betrayed by Sam (Martin Lewis), whose adolescent growing pains blind him to the true situation, the Five Mile Creek "family" make a desperate effort to save him. "When the Kookaburra Cries" August 1, 3, 5, 6, 9, 11, 14

"Walk Like a Man" August 15, 17, 19, 20, 23, 25, 27

"Happy Trails" with Roy Rogers and Dale Evans

Roy and Dale remember Trigger, "the smartest horse in movies."

As "The Arizona Kid," Roy gallops into a skirmish with renegade soldiers who are terrorizing the Southwest during the Civil War. Trigger does his part in rounding up the outlaws.

Gabby Hayes, toothless

but still the best scenery-chewing character actor in the business, plays Roy's sidekick.

"The Arizona Kid" led to a remake, "The Dark Command," starring John Wayne. Roy Rogers also starred, this time as Claire Trevor's rebellious brother. August 2, 4, 6, 8, 17, 24, 29

JIMINY CRICKET THEATRE

Every other Sunday Jiminy Cricket premieres two new international children's films which continue to play throughout a two-week period.

A 60-pound weakling's dreams of being a muscle man come true when his T-shirt is exposed to wonder-working chemicals in "Sammy's Super T-Shirt," airing August 5.

This British shirt tale is paired with "Cookie Goes to the Hospital" from "The Kids of Degrassi Street," a Canadian series featuring the young residents of a real Toronto neighborhood. In this film, Ida and Noel try to smuggle Cookie's doll into the hospital before she undergoes an emergency appendectomy.

"Smuggler's Cove," is a suspense tale beginning August 19. Tension builds as four teens stumble onto a plot to reclaim sunken treasure.

This film is followed by a return to Degrassi Street where "Lisa Makes Headlines." Snooping for a scoop for her neighborhood paper, Lisa jumps to conclusions which nearly put her nose for news out of joint! "Sammy's Super T-Shirt" "Cookie Goes to the Hospital" August 5, 11, 14, 17 "Smuggler's Cove" "Lisa Makes Headlines" August 19, 22, 25, 27

DISNEY STUDIO SHOWCASE

If aziophobia has you grounded, watch "So You're Afraid to Fly"

Beginning with the delivery of an American Airlines DC-9-80 and ending with its maiden flight, this reassuring program takes you step by step through the engineering, construction and testing of a modern commercial aircraft.

Emphasizing safety, this show aims to replace the "groundless fears" of timid passengers with confidence in air travel.

THE EXPLORERS "Soul of India"

East Indian civilization dates from around 2500 B.C. and is a mosaic of cultural diversity bound together today as the world's most populous democracy.

This film explores the villages and rural areas where 75% of India's 650 million citizens still live, and which Mahatma Gandhi called the true soul of India.

BILLY ROSE'S DIAMOND HORSESHOE

Betty Grable, Dick Haymes, Phil Silvers, William Gaxton

Betty Grable and her famous legs have no trouble attracting the boss's son (Dick Haymes) in this mirthful musical.

Betty is the headliner of owner William Gaxton's Diamond Horseshoe nightclub. His son is so smitten with her that he quits medical school to enter show business. Betty is blamed for his defection, but determines to change his mind. Moving right along, they sparkle in numbers like "The More I See You" and "I Wish I Knew."

We're All Ears

Linda Palmer
Subscriber Services Director

Dear Friends:

Summer may be nearly over and school just around the corner, but the fun's still going strong on The Disney Channel. I think our August program lineup is simply super!

One of my favorite nature films, THE LIVING DESERT, is showing this month. I used to think of the desert as a dry, dull place until I saw this movie. It's a fascinating "behind the cactus" look at desert life. Everytime I see the scenes of the cloudburst and blooming plants, I catch my breath in wonder.

Another breather this month is THE GREAT AMERICAN COWBOY. It's a true-life story about rodeo riders. Cameramen actually entered the ring with handheld equipment. They got as close to the Brahmas as some of the rodeo clowns. That's what I call a bull's-eye view of the action! Slow motion photography and beautiful music emphasize the drama and danger of this uniquely American event.

Herbie's back too—for another "joy ride!" If you liked his first two pictures, you'll enjoy HERBIE GOES TO MONTE CARLO this month. And don't miss HEIDI as well as BIG BANDS AT DISNEYLAND, our continuing music series.

I hope The Disney Channel made the summer a star-spangled spectacular for you! Stay tuned for a fabulous fall!

Sincerely,

Linda

VIEWERS' HURRAHS!

Something I read recently criticizing Disney for violence in the cartoons made me feel I had to write. I have five great kids who've all grown up with Disney. I've never seen anything in the Disney movies or on The Disney Channel (and we've had it for over a year now) that I've objected to. Please don't change. You have done more good than you'll ever know.

Mrs. Jackie Finesilver
Indianapolis, IN

I am either a 65-year-old man in my first childhood or I never realized my transition to a second childhood! Being elderly has its benefits and The Disney Channel is one of mine. Wholesome viewing is something we thought would never return in our time. Thanks again for your channel.

John D. Dickmeyer,
Retired Young Old Man
Ft. Wayne, IN

VIEWERS WELCOME STEVERINO!

Congratulations on a wonderful addition to The Disney Channel, "Steve Allen's Music Room." With all the rock video flooding the other channels, it's a very welcome change to hear the standards performed in a comfortable, relaxed setting.

Elaine Hulsebus
Little Ferry, NJ

We wanted to tell you how much we enjoyed "Steve Allen's Music Room." The music was wonderful, the talent exceptional. Have Steve Allen stay around for as long as you can. It's like having an old family friend back in our home again.

Mr. & Mrs. Boyd Ramsey
Rowlett, TX

POSITIVE INFLUENCE ON FAMILIES

It is wonderful to have a channel that encourages and reinforces the positive attributes of our world. The Disney Channel is such an educational and entertaining source that I know everyone who subscribes will become a dedicated fan.

Your magazine is also excellent. We look forward to it every month.

Nadine M. Lee
Pleasanton, CA

CURIOUS SUBSCRIBERS

Could you please identify the music used as the theme for "Mouseterpiece Theater"? It's kept my family guessing for many months.

R. H. Cordell
Marietta, GA

The theme music for "Mouseterpiece Theater" is entitled "Fanfare for a King's Supper" by J. J. Mouret.

The Disney Channel welcomes letters and pictures from viewers. Send materials for publication to The Disney Channel Subscriber Services, 4111 W. Alameda, Burbank, Ca. 91505. All submissions must include name and address of sender. Please include the name of your local cable operator on all correspondence. Letters may be edited for reasons of space and clarity. All materials become property of The Disney Channel and cannot be individually acknowledged or returned.

PLAY IT AGAIN CINEMA

Pick A Play-Back Of Your Favorite Disney Film!

With PLAY IT AGAIN CINEMA, you can pick your favorite Disney movie for an encore performance! Indicate your choice on the ballot and return it to us. Then stay tuned! The film with the most votes will be announced and shown in November. (Remember, only one ballot* per family. Please limit your choice to the options given here.)

THE CASTAWAY COWBOY

*James Garner,
Vera Miles, Robert Culp*

It's howdy to laughter when a Texas cowpuncher takes over a run-down Hawaiian cattle ranch and, faster than he can say "git along little dogie," is up to his chaps in trouble.

The Waltz King

*Kerwin Mathews,
Senta Berger, Brian Aherne*
With 22 captivating Strauss compositions setting the tone, this melodic dramatization of Johann Strauss Jr.'s early career evokes all the romance and beauty of 19th century Vienna.

KING of the GRIZZLIES

*John Yesno, Chris Wiggins,
Hugh Webster, Jack Van Evera*
This legendary tale of Wahb, a grizzly bear and Moki, the Indian who called him brother and yet was forced to hunt him, is as heroic and splendid as the Canadian Rockies where it was filmed.

Disney Channel Savings Stamps

Love giving Disney items to people you care about? We've created Disney Channel Savings Stamps exclusively for subscribers. Now you can get the merchandise you want—at substantial savings over retail prices too! Here's how the service works:

Easy Order Form

1. Be sure you have the correct number of savings stamps required for the item(s) ordered.
2. Indicate number of each item wanted in the "Quantity Wanted" column.
3. Multiply each quantity by the price indicated in the "You Pay $" column. Enter amount in the "Total $ Per Item" column.
4. Subtotal the order. Add the shipping charge for each item, then total the amount of your order.
5. Make your check or money order for the correct amount payable to Disney Channel Savings Stamps. Enclose with savings stamps and mail to: Disney Channel Savings Stamps, 5933 Corvette Street, Commerce, CA 90040.
6. Please note: We are able to accept only one Savings Stamp from each month's magazine for your order. (No multiples of identical stamps please.)

Exploring the Archives

Dave Smith established the Walt Disney Archives in 1970. Its collections are as varied as the activities of Walt Disney Productions.

"Spin and Marty" on the "Mickey Mouse Club" has always been one of my favorites. How many episodes were made in all?—D.W., Springfield, MA

There were three different "Spin and Marty" serials. The first had 25 episodes, the second 23, and the third 30. Thus there was a total of 78 episodes.

What ever happened to the shows that Disney created for the 1964 New York World's Fair?—H.W., Las Vegas, NV

At the close of the fair all four shows were transported to Disneyland, where they became popular attractions: Great Moments with Mr. Lincoln, General Electric's Carousel of Progress (later moved to Walt Disney World), It's a Small World, and Primeval World.

Prof. Owl explores the field of Melody

Did Disney ever do any 3-D films?

—R.B., Glendale, CA

Back in the 1950s when 3-D was introduced, Walt Disney made the first 3-D cartoon, "Adventures in Music—Melody" (1953). It was followed by a Donald Duck cartoon, "Working for Peanuts" (1953), and a program shown at Disneyland called "3-D Jamboree" (1956). Now there is a much-advanced 3-D film, "Magic Journeys," showing at EPCOT Center and Disneyland.

DISNEY CHANNEL TRIVIA

... "The Living Desert" (see page 5) was the first film handled by Disney's Buena Vista Distribution Co. Buena Vista was established after Disney's previous distributor showed no confidence in the film's success. "The Living Desert," of course, went on to win an Oscar, and proved a fitting beginning for the new company.

... According to the credits, "Lt. Robin Crusoe, U.S.N." (see page 10) was based on a story by Retlaw Yensid. Try spelling the name backwards.

... Elsa Lanchester, the great character actress who had her first Disney role in "Mary Poppins," went on to memorable parts in "That Darn Cat," "Blackbeard's Ghost" and "Rascal" (see page 14).

Readers who have Disney-related questions can write to Dave Smith, c/o The Disney Channel Magazine, 4111 W. Alameda Ave., Burbank, CA 91505.

MAKING MEMORIES

In "Rascal," the grown-up narrator recalls one very special boyhood summer—the best he ever had. Memories are wonderful, and get even better when they're shared. This month, ask each family member to describe some special memories from this summer. The questions here are just for starters. We bet that once you're warmed up, you won't want to stop!

1. Take turns describing the funniest thing that happened to you this summer. Now name the happiest, scariest, most exciting event you can recall.
2. Name one thing you accomplished or learned that REALLY made you proud! Recall something another family member did that impressed you.
3. Start a family memory bank. Get a big blank book or scrapbook. Contribute drawings, poems, photos, clippings or simple notes about memories you want to save.
4. If Sterling North had named his summer, he might have called it "The Summer of the Raccoon." If you were to name your summer, what would you call it? "Summer of the Mosquitos"? "The Swimming Pool Summer"? "Summer of the Little League Championship"?

THE 1988 OLYMPICS START TODAY.

To reach the Olympics, the athletes began training long ago. Years ago. Probably the better part of their lives.

Likewise, your participation must begin early.

Most of the money for our Olympic effort is spent long before the Games ever begin. For equipment. Travel. Coaching. Facilities. Meals. Lodging. Sports medicine.

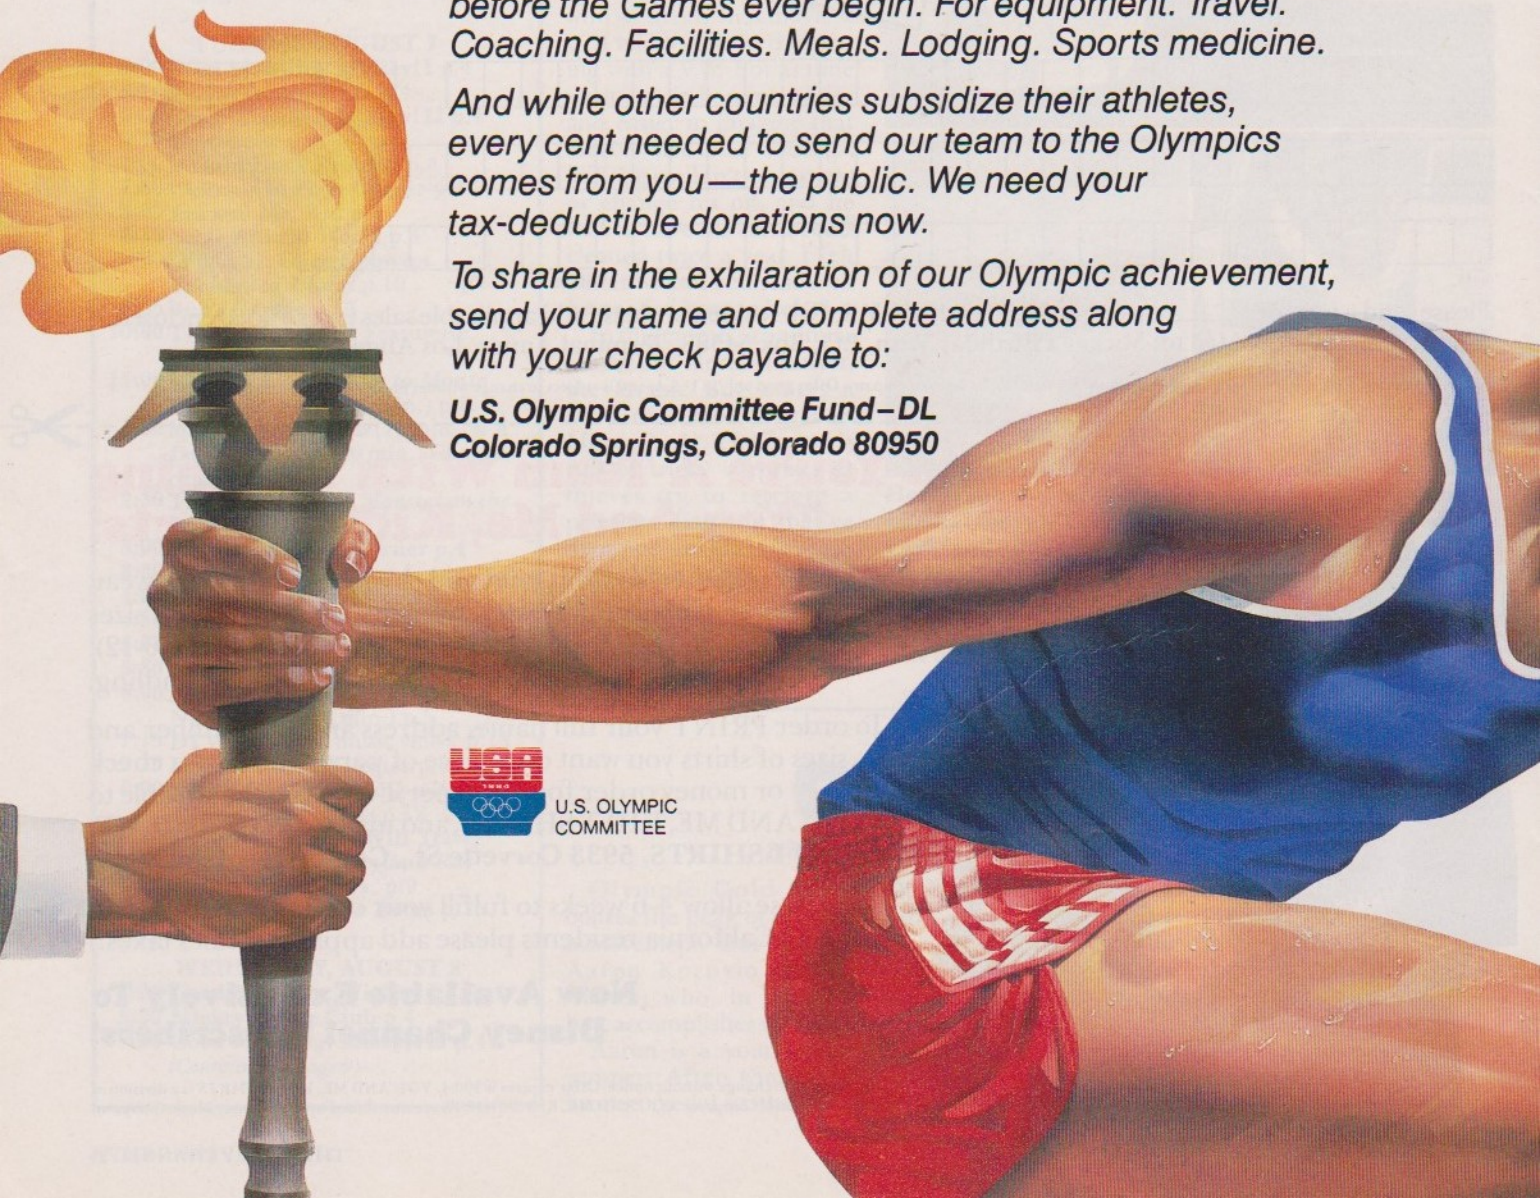

And while other countries subsidize their athletes, every cent needed to send our team to the Olympics comes from you—the public. We need your tax-deductible donations now.

MICKEY'S Just for Kids SECTION

Hi there!

Whewee! It's hot outside! I'm as warm as a mouse in a lion's den. That's why I'm glad to relax with some cool viewing on The Disney Channel.

There are a lot of captivating programs this month. How 'bout traveling to a not-so-deserted island with LT. ROBIN CRUSOE, U.S.N., or exploring THE LIVING DESERT? Or go VACATIONING WITH MICKEY AND FRIENDS (that's me).

You'll find super summer fun in JUST FOR KIDS too. Make a "roll-back" toy to mystify your friends, start a neighborhood newspaper, or get Herbie out of a maze.

However you spend these last days before s-c-h-o-o-l begins—you can count on staying cool with The Disney Channel!

Mystify Your Friends with Bud's Roll-Back Can!

Here's one toy you just can't seem to lose! Roll it away and it comes right back! Make it according to the directions here and have your friends guessing how it works!

YOU'LL NEED:

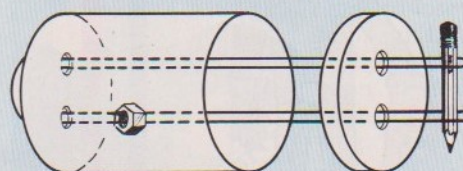

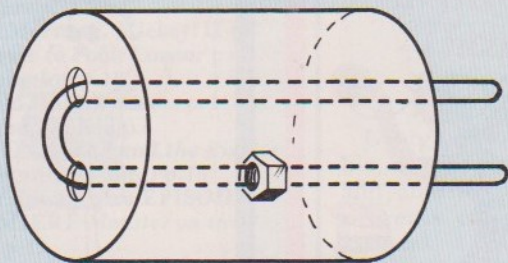

An empty oatmeal carton and a lid
Lots of rubber bands
A heavy nut
A pencil or large nail

DIRECTIONS:

1. Make a rubber band chain twice the length of the oatmeal box by looping the ends as shown.
2. Punch 2 holes about 1" apart in the center of the box lid and bottom.

3. Starting from inside the carton, thread the rubber band chain out one hole in the bottom and in the other hole. Slip the nut onto one side of the chain inside the box.
4. Pull the ends of the rubber band chain through the holes in the lid. Slip a pencil or nail through the loops at the end of the chain. Put the lid on the carton. Roll the carton away from you gently. Let go. It should roll back. (You may need to adjust the rubber band chain by tightening it.)

Watch "The Kids Of Degrassi Street" On "Jiminy Cricket Theatre" August 5, 11, 14, 17, 19, 22, 25 and 27

EXTRA! EXTRA!

Here's how you and your friends can create a neighborhood paper just like "The Kids of Degrassi Street."

Section Sense

Have different sections just like major papers. How about these for starters?

Food:

Print favorite recipes, and give the cook credit.

Want Ads:

Maybe Mrs. Jones needs help in the yard. Perhaps Mr. Smith wants to sell a used bike. What better place to tell people than the neighborhood news?

PRACTICAL PRINTING

Type or print the stories in columns. Cut the columns apart, arrange and paste them on 8½" x 11" pieces of paper. Make photocopies at a printing shop, office supply store or post office.

Sports:

Who hit a homer at the last Little League Game? Has someone just passed the Red Cross swimming test?

Ask WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHERE, WHY and HOW about each story. Always stick to the facts — NEVER exaggerate. That's not good news for anyone!

Develop Your News Nose!

Tell your neighbors you're looking for pleasant news they WANT to share. Has someone had company? Taken a trip? Done something interesting?

Comics:

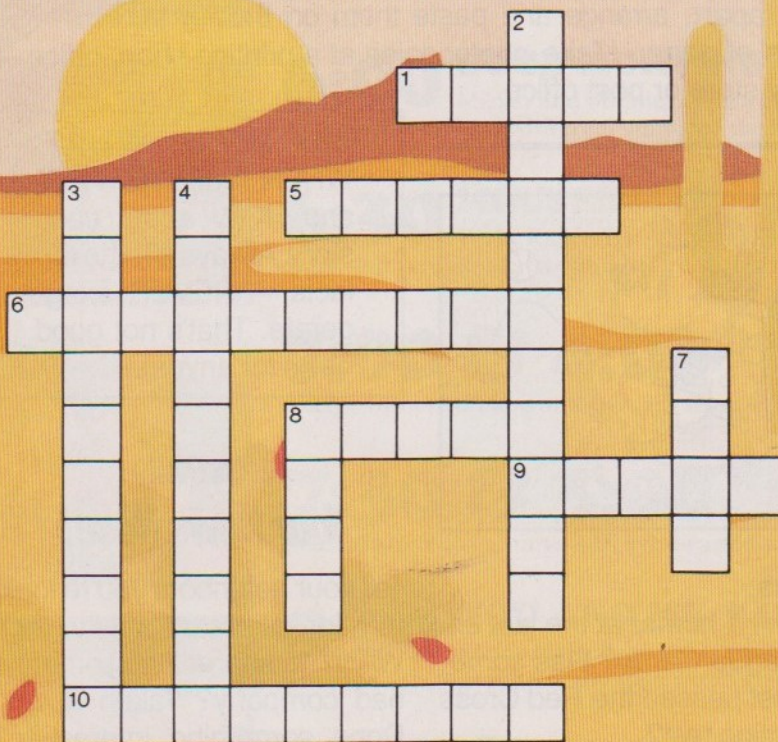

What's a paper without funnies? Ask the artistic kid (or jokester) on your block to draw a comic strip or write some jokes.

DESERT CREATURES CROSSWORD

Think the desert is just a dry, hot place where nothing ever happens? Think again! It's really a wonderful, mysterious world teeming with odd creatures and plants. You'll see its fascinating story on "The Living Desert" August 1, 4, 7, 10, 12, 16, 18, 24, 26, 30. Watch the show, then work this crossword using what you've seen and heard.

ACROSS

1. _____ Valley (famous desert)
5. Visual trick caused by heat and light
6. Desert bird related to the cuckoo
8. Lizard
9. Bats use this for directions
10. Spider

DOWN

2. Water-storing rodent
3. Desert rainstorm
4. Snake
7. Prickly _____ (cactus)
8. _____ Monster (poisonous lizard)

ANSWERS: Across: 1. Death 5. Mirage 6. Roadrunner 8. Gecko 9. Radar 10. Tarantula Down: 2. Kangaroo Rat 3. Cloudburst 4. Sidewinder 7. Pear 8. Gila

FIND IT IN THE LIBRARY!

Some movies come directly from a book or story; others use similar ideas, but give them an unusual twist. Watch the following films on The Disney Channel, then read the related books to find out how they're like the films and how they differ.

RASCAL is taken directly from the book, "Rascal", by Sterling North.

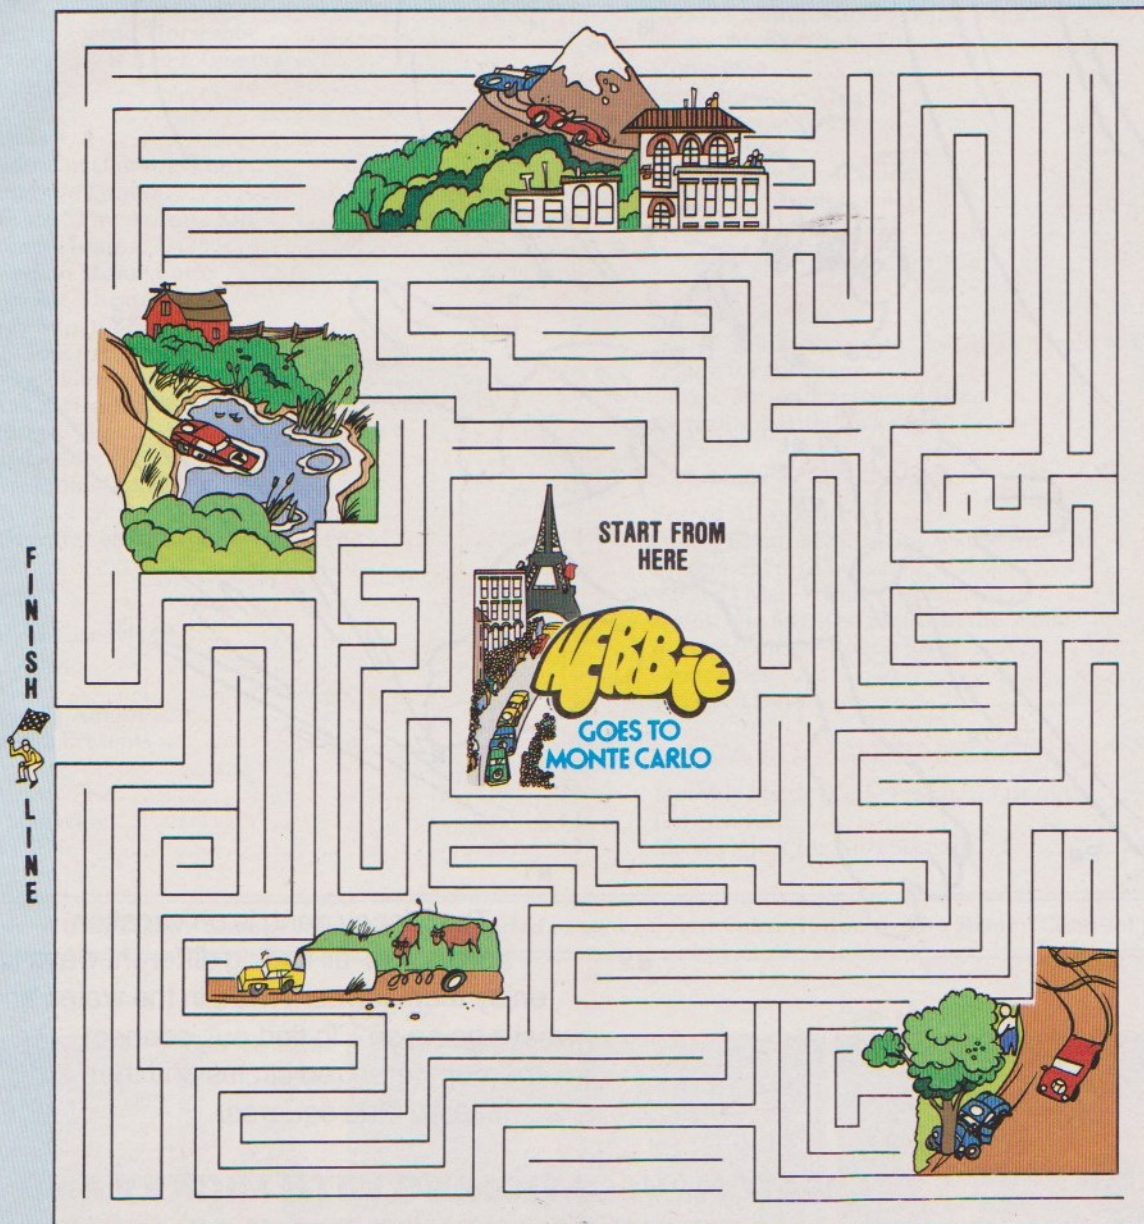

LT. ROBIN CRUSOE, U.S.N. uses an idea similar to the adventure classic, "Robinson Crusoe," by Daniel Defoe, but can you spot the difference?
